ORDER OF DETENTION PENDING TRIAL

An initial appearance and arraignment were held in this case on June 21, 2006. Brownlow Marsh, Assistant United States Attorney, was present representing the government, and Beth Ford was present representing the defendant. The government made a motion for detention stating the defendant was not eligible for release because of a detainer placed on the defendant by Immigration Customs Enforcement. Counsel for the defendant stated that the defendant wished to waive his right to a detention hearing at this time and reserve the right to have a hearing at a later date, if appropriate. Pursuant to the defendant signing a Waiver of Detention Hearing, the defendant is to be detained. 18 U.S.C. § 3142(f)(2)(B). The defendant was present and stated that he knew he would remain in jail pending trial. For good cause, and by agreement of the defendant, this detention hearing is waived and the defendant is detained.

The defendant is aware of his rights to a prompt detention hearing and to require the government to meet its burden of proving that no conditions of release exist
